Youth Protection Training- Scouting Safe Program for our Youth

Youth protection is the most important program for our youth that the BSA has developed and is mandatory to be a Scouting leader no matter the registered position. Leadership commitment to the established BSA Youth Protection Program is essential in keeping youth safe and a part of a successful life changing program. Youth protection only works when EVERYONE in Scouting has been trained in the Youth Protection Program and then holds every peer accountable when delivering the program. MyScouting.org is an online resource to take online Youth Protection training. The Council also supplies Youth Protection DVD's to units for free and has computers at the Scout Service Center for use in taking the online training. Please make an appointment if you need these resources.

Leadership selection: chartered organizations must interview potential leaders, check references, and have the unit committee review the application as well to ensure only the best people are being selected, people who will follow the procedures and be FULLY TRAINED as leaders.

Create barriers to child abuse: leaders and unit committee members, as well as Council and district staff and volunteers, create barriers to abuse by enforcing the youth protection policies.

Reporting improper behavior is the next step in identifying offenders and removing them from the program and having the authorities investigate. Youth can be trained in how to report and respond to perpetrators through the Cub Scout video "A Time to Tell" and the Boy Scout and Venturing "It Happened to Me" videos. Go to Scouting.org for more information on these resources.

All incidences need to be reported to the Scout Service Center immediately so offenders can be reported to authorities and removed from Scouting. Again, shared involvement at all levels of our Scouting program will best achieve our number one mission, keeping youth safe.

Important Rechartering Facts

This year presents some special attention to the rechartering process as we move forward on state law compliance and Moraine Trails Council rechartering policies designed to help manage the process. Some of the key items unit leaders need to address as they prepare for and work the rechartering process are:

- LEADER POSITION SPECIFIC TRAINING: leaders in positions where they directly supervise youth MUST be trained. The training rules are enclosed.
- LEADER YOUTH PROTECTION TRAINING: ALL registered leaders must have current youth protection training. Our Council provides a youth protection training DVD to every unit annually to ensure this is not an obstacle.
- PA ACT 15 Compliance paperwork: all three background checks required by state law must be submitted. The Council has nearly 1,000 volunteers to process and track, and they will need time to record each person's paperwork.
- Online charter renewal: by now your unit leadership should have received the rechartering booklet with the online instructions and codes to recharter. The online process ensures your leadership registers all required positions with the Boy Scouts of America and ensures correct fee calculation.

With more than 100 units to recharter, our Council leadership asks for our unit leader's cooperation in attending one of the district unit rechartering days to expedite your unit charter renewal. A special rechartering letter and flier has been mailed to all Council unit leaders. If a unit cannot be entered into the BSA system in January the unit cannot meet and is not insured until all the above paperwork is correct to enter. Our Council Commissioner, Doug Benninger thanks you in advance for your cooperation! Our scouts are fortunate to have exceptional leaders in the Moraine Trails Council!

Council Camping Committee to host Webinars

The Moraine Trails Council has recently experienced the largest change in Cub Scout leadership it has ever had. To help support our new leaders and plan for summer camp, a series of monthly webinars will be scheduled monthly for approximately 20-30 minute sessions. A list of the monthly topics and webinar dates will be published online by November 15th and a special webinar schedule will be e-mailed to Cub Scout leadership as well. If your pack would like to fire up and excite its youth and parents about camp at the December pack meeting please e-mail Pat Hanford at pat.hanford@scouting.org your preferred camp promotion date, time, and location and your unit will be contacted to confirm the presentation which is only 10 minutes!

Changes ahead for Boy Scouts

The coming changes to the Boy Scout program while not as extensive as those that transformed Cub Scouts, are still important and require careful planning.

Growing The Outdoor Program

The number of campouts required at the earlier ranks will increase. One campout will be required for Tenderfoot, two additional campouts for Second Class and three more for First Class. Also, look for an increased focus at each rank on discussing outdoor ethics, with the youth evaluating how they practice those principles on a campout.

Making the Scout Badge a Formal Rank

Previously, the Scout badge was only a joining requirement. Now, boys will have to demonstrate their knowledge of the requirements to a member of the troop to have them signed off.

Beefing Up Physical Fitness

Currently, only the Tenderfoot rank carries fitness requirements. To promote lifelong healthy habits, there will be greater focus on health and smart nutrition thought the early ranks.

Putting Greater Emphasis on Service and Stewardship

The service requirement that once covered only Star, Life and Eagle now extends to three previous ranks. At the Life rank, half of the service hours must be conservation-related.

Deepening Scout Spirit

At each rank, Scouts will be asked to tell how they have done their duty to God and how they have lived by the Scout Law. They'll be asked to describe this in their own words. How that is interpreted will be completely left to the boy, so there's no fear of a wrong answer as long as he can articulate his belief.

Despite these exciting changes, a lot remains the same on the Boy Scouting front. There are no changes in the number of merit badges required at Star through Eagle, in the active requirement or in the number of service hours. Troops will still be boy-led, patrol leader councils will still plan the program, and the Scout Oath and Scout Law will still embody Scouting's principles. To help Scouts navigate these changes, leaders are advised to attend roundtables, follow online postings and keep in touch through unit commissioners. Leaders will find plenty of good information at scouting.org/programupdates and in these resources: Troop Leader Guidebooks, Program Features For Troops, Teams and Crews, New Edition of Boy Scout Handbooks, New Boy Scouting Requirement. For more information please visit: <http://www.scouting.org/scoutsource/programupdates.aspx>

2016 Camp Director's Appointment

Hello, my name is Bob Seman and I am pleased to be selected as your 2016 Resident Camp Director. I have served as Day Camp Program Director for the last 2 years as well as Family Camp Chairman for the last 3 Cub Scout Family Camps. I look forward to bringing new and exciting ideas to both camps while maintaining the traditions you hold dear. I would like to invite you to be part of an open dialog with me when it comes to your ideas and goals for our camps. You may email me at any time at Robert.Seman@Scouting.org. Thank you and I look forward to working with you all.

ATTACK of the Drones, Aghhhhh!

Camp Agawam will be under attack next summer. The Drones are coming to Camp Agawam for Cub Scout Resident Camp. In addition to our Flying Camera Drone keeping an Eagles Eye view on all the fun of camp, scouts will be able to fly a smaller drone on their own. Some of the highlights of this year's Cub Scout Camp will include model airplane demonstrations, remote control boats, STEM activities, scouting skills, and a game of Battle Ship like you have never seen before. The Webelos Advancement program will focus on Boy Scout camping skills such as campfire building, setting up a tent, Dutch Oven cooking as well as First Responder Skills and leadership opportunities. Select your Camp leadership early so any time off needed can be scheduled in January. I look forward to seeing you at camp this summer.

Fall Family Camp & Open House

This year's Fall Family Camp and Open House was a HUGE success! Despite the cold weather Moraine Trails Councils had over 1000 participants attend on October 17th! We would like to thank the countless volunteers who donated their time to help make this camp a success. Check-In was quick, activities were safe, and campfires burned with scouting enthusiasm. Without your support none of this would have been possible. Scouts and parents alike had a great time launching there home assembled rockets, racing the TV themed Cubmobiles around the track, talking with scouts from around the world at the Jamboree on the Air and Jamboree on the Internet stations, and watching the Drone's first flight high overhead of Camp Agawam. We look forward to seeing you at our next exciting and ever engaging Spring Family Camp in May 2016!

Staff for Summer Camp

With the fall weather it might be hard to think about Summer Camp but we are in full swing of planning your 2016 Boy Scout and Cub Scout Resident Camp. We would like to invite all interested camp staff to apply for an experience of a life time to be a member of our 2016 Camp Staff. We are accepting resumes for Program Director, Head Cook, Aquatics Director, Waterfront Director, Range Director, Archery Director, Health Officer, Program Area Directors, and support staff and instructors. Shooting Sports Committee

BECOMING A BSA SHOOTING SPORTS INSTRUCTOR

What certification do scouts and adult leaders\parents need to assist in shooting sports?

For firearms BSA requires shooting sports instructors and supervisors be certified NRA Instructor in the discipline (rifle, shotgun, muzzleloader, pistol) in which they're conducting training. BSA also requires a Range Safety Officer at events.

How do scouts and adult leaders\parents become shooting sports instructors?

Both scouts and leaders attend a full NRA Instructor Workshop in the discipline in which they're interested. This is a full NRA certification, not a BSA certification.

What does the Instructor Workshop cover?

The first course is the Basic Instructor Training (BIT) block which covers policies and procedures for both the NRA and BSA, teaching techniques, organizing and conducting shooting sports activities and documentation requirements. This BIT is good for 2 years and is a pre-requisite for discipline specific courses. The discipline specific courses are: rifle, shotgun, pistol, and muzzleloader. They are 10-14 hours long depending on the course.

What type of certification does attending a course provide?

Adults 21 years old get a certified instructor rating. Individuals 18-21 get an assistant instructor rating. Individuals 13-17 get an apprentice instructor rating. Apprentice and assistants instructors can provide instruction when assisting a fully certified instructor. When apprentice and assistants instructors turn 18 or 21 respectively, they upgrade to the next level without retaking the instructor course. Range Safety Officers must be 21 years old...there are no assistant or apprentice Range Safety Officer ratings.

How do MTC scouts qualify to attend an Instructor Workshop?

Scouts 15 years old and above with a merit badge in the area of interested, recommendation from your Scout Master and parental permission can attend the workshop.

What pre-requisites are required to become an instructor?

All instructor candidates must pass a closed book general information test on the firearms for the workshop which they're attending (merit badge book information), complete an evaluation on loading, unloading and dealing with malfunctions for all action types of the firearm type, and pass a marksmanship evaluation.

What does a troop need to conduct shooting sports at the troop level?

BSA requires a fully certified instructor and certified NRA Range Safety Officer to conduct shooting sports. They cannot be the same person.

How do you get a Range Safety Officer certification?

Attend an NRA Range Safety Officer course or, once a certified instructor, take the course online. To conduct shooting sports at MTC ranges have the RSO rating and receive an MTC Standard Operation Procedures (SOP) briefing.

When are the next MTC NRA Instructor Workshops?

Currently the next workshops are scheduled for March 19-20 and April 22-24, 2016. We will be offering the BIT and the choice of Rifle, Pistol, Shotgun, Muzzleloader or RSO. (BIT not required for RSO).

How do I get more information?

Contact Dave Gemperle at dgemperle@aol.com or Chad Gallagher at cgallagher@zoominternet.net.
